

Supplier Welcome Page:

This page opens when a supplier logs in.

He has:

Link to list offers to buy from him, which are responses to what he has advertised, here he has 21 offers

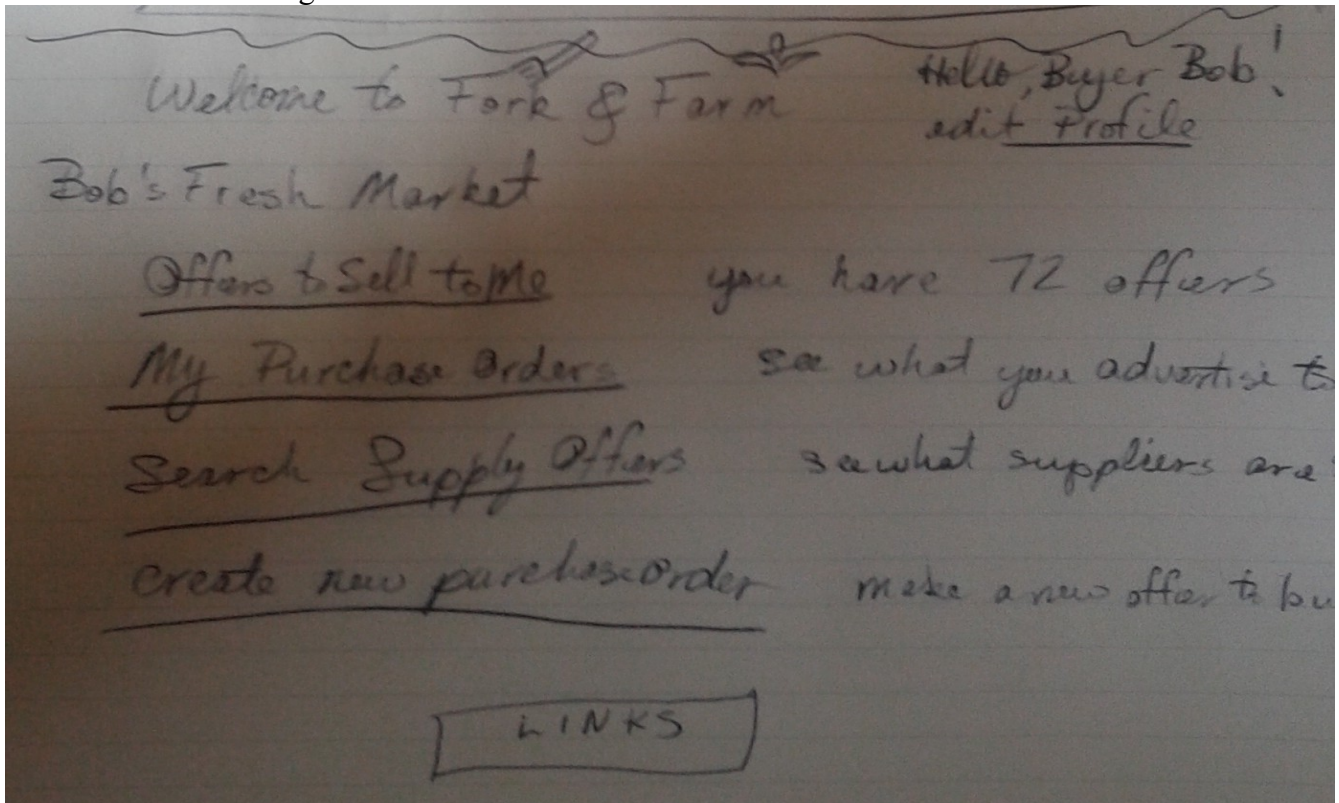

Links to his list of supply offers so he can see what he has advertised link to a page where he can look at advertisements to buy link to create new supply advertisement

at the bottom are useful links

Purchaser Welcome Page

The purchaser has options similar to those of the supplier.

He can see a click to see a list of offers to sell items to him in response to his advertisements

He can see a list of his purchase orders that he has advertised.

He can search supplier advertisements

He can create a new advertisement

The functionality for the purchaser is the same as for the supplier except that the purchaser advertises purchases and offers to buy and the supplier advertises goods for sale and makes offers to sell.

Here Farmer Fred has clicked on “make offer” to get to this page. He sees Bob's market's advertised purchase order for Watermelons and it lists Bob's terms- the price, and delivery date and his payment terms plus some comments.

Farmer Fred fills out his offer price, delivery date and some comments and which will then be sent to the purchaser.

View responses to a supply advertisement:

On this page the supplier can see responses to an individual supply advertisement.

Farmer Fred has advertised he has 100 pounds of potatoes and wants $1.25 per pound for this lot.

He has three responses, one from Bob's Market, one from the School Cafeteria and one from the State Prison. At this point he can choose to contact any one or all of the purchasing agents.
